Hi everyone. I'm a secondary teacher interested in using the power of social media in my classroom. #Edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:11 | BenRogersOVA

@john_at_muuaa that's a fair point. Possibly extend with something like deck.ly #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:11 | donenda

@john_at_muuaa @donenda Can encourage critical thinking if students comment on blogs - an important skill to learn/practice #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:11 | catherinecronin

@pamelaaobrien then we have a problem. blogs, wikis etc need critical thinking. Thus this must be a key skill. #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:11 | john_at_muuaa

@CharliSolo #edchatie exactly however most teachers are not there ...yet!!1

20-Jun-11 20:11 | johnmayo

@john_at_muuaa yeah, I would have gone farther if the tech was in the classroom, that's another stumbling block #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:10 | levdavidovic

@levdavidovic cool! who thought it was cutting edge? the inspectors? #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:10 | john_at_muuuu

@john_at_muuuu let's not even go there. Critical thinking very sadly lacking for the most part #Edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | pamelaabrien

@john_at_muuuu it's hard to get them to use tech in class if the final product has to be written down #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | levdavidovic

@catherinecronin @donenda pbworks is excellent but when u want to have strong controls on access you have to pay 4 it #Edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | gersharpe1

@catherinecronin PBworks nice, more of a cross between a wiki and a blog, makes for a nice setup #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | donenda

@donenda sometimes one needs to say just a bit more. does twitter condition kids out of longer texts? #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | john_at_muuuu

@donenda twitter is brilliant for a timeline, sharing URL's, filtering information, following those who matter :) :) #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | domaho

@domaho used a simple data projector in an English inspection, was made out to be cutting edge!! #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:09 | levdavidovic

@donenda I've used PBWorks a number of times - very good. Have also used wiki within Blackboard, but much less functionality. #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:08 | catherinecronin

@levdavidovic that means we're both forcing students away from tech. eh?! #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:08 | john_at_muuuu

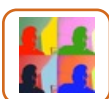

@CharliSolo @donenda hope wikis not on way out just as I'm about to jump in. Should listen to @topgold more :) #Edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:07 | donenda

@catherinecronin thanks Catherine #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:07 | levdavidovic

@donenda @CharliSolo like the idea of collaboration by students. We have Moodle so wikis easy to set up #Edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | pamelaaobrien

@levdavidovic hence many have reverted to pen and paper for all coursework since they cannot meet the rule. #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | john_at_muua

@johnmayo agree - but some SM allows dumping of info - one of the downsides of blogs #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | domaho

@john_at_muua @pamelaaobrien #edchatie Its effectiveness depends on the processes we put in place

20-Jun-11 20:06 | CharliSolo

@levdavidovic Yes, will post you a link after the chat tonight. #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | catherinecronin

@levdavidovic I missed something there. Our boards ask that if WP is used then ALL students must use it. but small schools can't #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | john_at_muua

@catherinecronin do you have a wiki platform in particular that you use Catherine? #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:06 | donenda

20-Jun-11 20:05 | johnmayo

Can SM be trusted not if it allows copying and pasting as in some blogs Yes if some form of critical (thinking)mashup ordiscussion #edchatie

20-Jun-11 20:05 | domaho

@donenda @pamelaobrien Wikis work really well when students post assignments there - like those blog posts. #authenticassessment #edchatie
