caramcdermott 12 hours ago

fboss 12 hours ago

• for me in school I always learnt best by reading and taking millions of notes #edchatie #HowILearn

cullej29 12 hours ago

• #edchatie #HowILearn at school I learned in occasional gallops with massive pauses - lasting several years

johndavitt 12 hours ago

• #edchatie for the most part by rote in primary (times tables!) and some of secondary. Only Really understood by doing though!

brighidcannon 12 hours ago

• @AnseoAMuinteoir @aangeli Is there a Teachmeet going on in the UK at the moment? Would be great if they want to jump in too #edchatie

caramcdermott 12 hours ago

• #howilearn #edchatie In early primary, definitely learned through play, secondary - learned best when teacher turned it into a story

maqsamond 12 hours ago

@HideTag first write, then highlight, then write shorter notes, then learn by heart #edchatie

aoifeblood 12 hours ago

• @m2thefizzle probably best to edit something in another wp and then just paste it in online #edchatie

brighidcannon 12 hours ago

• @MartinaMe dont forget the #edchatie tag or it wont be saved

AnseoAMuinteoir 12 hours ago

• @AnseoAMuinteoir Agree - feel it was because we had to "show we know" - get answer right. Understanding followed, but not always #edchatie

fboss 12 hours ago

• @AnseoAMuinteoir #HowILearn is with good teachers who spark my curiosity. I had too many teachers K-12 going thru motions. #edchatie

MissShuganah 12 hours ago

catherinecronin 12 hours ago

• #edchatie modern students are asking the question why we learn? Ways I learnt included plenty of note-taking and analysis of exam papers!

padraigmob 12 hours ago

• @AnseoAMuinteoir I would have to picture the word in Irish in order for it sink in. Most of my Irish is now sunk though #edchatie

fboss 12 hours ago
